

Crop development report – Tett nang

June 2021

monthly temperature

monthly rainfalls

Warm and humid weather throughout the month resulted in very good growth. The lag of beginning of June has been completely offset.

The aphid and spider mite infestation is low. Fungal diseases are under control.

On the afternoon of June 29 a hailstorm hit the eastern part of the growing area. Some hop fields have been damaged seriously.

All conditions for continued good development of the hops are given.