

Crop development report– Hallertau

July 2021

Moderate summer temperatures and plentiful rainfall positively promoted the growth conditions of the stocks.

The plants were not exposed to heat stress and were therefore able to develop well.

The crop will start about one week later across the whole area.